

Vice President Choice Pleases Michigan Group

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — The selection Wednesday night of Sen. Hubert Humphrey as the Democratic vice presidential nominee was a big moment for Michigan Democrats, who have long since made him their favorite.

It was a particular thrill for Mrs. Mildred Jeffrey, Michigan's national committeewoman.

She stood on her chair and jumped up and down, ecstatic as a schoolgirl, when President Johnson quit toying with his audience and revealed what virtually everyone in the hall expected: Humphrey.

Backed By Williams
"It's splendid, it's wonderful," said former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who had been a Humphrey supporter — along with most other Michigan Democratic leaders — in 1960.

"Back when we had two Republican senators, before Pat McNamara and Phil Hart were elected, we regarded Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota as our senator," said Williams.

It was a personal thing, also, with Rep. James O'Hara, of Utica, who gives Humphrey a measure of credit for helping him win the office he now holds.

Many of Michigan's long-term political leaders are close enough to Humphrey that they call him "Hub" (as in hubcap). And his popularity is such that, in a recent Associated Press poll, 70 per cent of Michigan's delegates had picked him as their first choice for the second spot.

Good Campaigner
This popularity is both political and personal, according to Mrs. Jeffrey.

"We are the same kind of liberals," she said, "and Michigan and Minnesota are states with a lot in common. But that's only part of it."

"Hubert Humphrey has been a most generous person and an effective campaigner in Michigan's elections."

She recalled that Humphrey made his first visit to Michigan in 1958 and since then "must have been in the state at least 20 times."

He substituted on a moment's notice for the late President Kennedy at a fund-raising affair in October, 1962. The Cuban missile crisis kept the President in Washington.

His latest visit to Michigan was this year, when he addressed the Democrats' annual Jefferson - Jackson Day Dinner.

KOZAK ANNOUNCES
ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — A former state senator from Hamtramck picked the Democratic national convention as the time and place to tell Michigan Democrats he wants to be lieutenant governor.

Henry R. Kozak, 47-year-old proprietor of a beer distributorship, announced his candidacy by handing out brochures and bumper stickers to the Michigan delegates.

Kozak has the support of Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, who is retiring from the post, in his quest for the nomination at the Sept. 19 nominating convention in Lansing.

Lesinski, who is seeking a spot on the non-partisan court of appeals, said he regards Kozak, who once served as Senate minority leader, "an excellent candidate" for the job.

A delegate from the first district, where he also has served as chairman, Kozak is returning to politics as a candidate for state office after an eight-year gap. He served three terms in the Senate.

Hurricane Plows Path Over Rich Florida Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo smashed into the rich and thickly populated southeast coast of Florida today, caused heavy damage and plowed a devastating path northward.

The storm, a small but vicious killer, churned across Miami with surprising fury, lashing the city with winds up to 115 miles an hour, torrential rain and damaging tides.

Romney Meets Principals In Dailies Strike

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney meets today with publishers and union leaders to try and break the deadlock in Detroit's 45 day-old newspaper strike.

Romney was to confer with the publishers of the morning Detroit Free Press and the afternoon Detroit News at 10 a.m. and with both national and local union leaders at 11 a.m.

"The Detroit newspaper strike has increasingly affected the economy of the state and the public's knowledge of critical local state, national and international developments," Romney said in identical telegrams Tuesday asking for the meetings.

At a news conference Wednesday the governor said he hoped to persuade both sides to confer with him jointly at a later date.

Romney said he thinks the most important problem is to get clear statements of the issues at stake in the strike.

"I have not been able to determine exactly what the issues are," the governor said.

"The facts on the issues will help the public understand what is involved," said Romney.

"I've had enough experience in collective bargaining to know a clean - cut statement is tremendously important," he said adding:

"But I'm not naive enough to think a meeting here... is going to settle it."

Fair In Detroit Opens Friday For 10-Day Run

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's 115th annual State Fair is scheduled to open Friday for its ten-day run at the fairgrounds.

With a brief walkout fair carpenters settled earlier this week, Gov. George Romney is set to cut the ribbon at 6 p.m. at the Fair's Woodward Ave. entrance.

More than 100,000 persons are expected to line the parade route. Over 100 units, including precision marching bands, drill teams and beauty queens from all parts of Michigan, will be in the procession.

damage in the millions from the first hurricane to hit Miami in four years, and one of the worst since 1926.

Looters raided damaged shops and stores throughout the city.

Numerous injuries — most from flying glass — were reported, but there were no known fatalities. Hospitals held staffs overtime to treat the injured.

Miami and Miami Beach, a city of plush homes and swanky resort hotels just across storm-tossed Biscayne Bay, were plunged into darkness by power failures.

Minutes after the hurricane struck, the only electric lights in the normally brilliantly lit cities shone dimly from hospitals and other buildings with auxiliary power.

The eye of the storm, which has left a rising toll of dead in the Caribbean, moved directly over Miami, after indications it would pass out at sea.

Then it swirled slowly on to batter Fort Lauderdale and Palm Beach, famed play place of the wealthy, some 65 miles to the north.

The Weather Bureau said it was expected to continue its northward course at 11 miles an hour through the day, then veer away from the mainland on a northeasterly track tonight.

Hurricane warnings were hoisted all the way to Cape Kennedy, site of most U.S. space launchings, 190 miles north of Miami. Gale warnings extended another 50 miles north to Daytona Beach, and on huge Lake Okeechobee in south central Florida.

The Weather Bureau warned they may reach five to seven feet above normal.

Windows in hundreds of Miami homes and stores were smashed. Fallen power lines started dozens of fires. An 85-foot luxury yacht broke loose from its mooring and drifted helplessly without a crew in crashing waves. Trees were toppled, roofs ripped off.

Rocket Success At Keweenaw

COPPER HARBOR (AP) —

The third rocket roared aloft Wednesday in what was reported a successful launching in a series of experiments to put Michigan into a weather rocket network.

But, again, engineers in charge of the project on the Keweenaw Peninsula expressed less than full satisfaction with information obtained from the missile.

Wednesday's firing was expected to give "approximate temperature and wind data" within an altitude range of 80,000 to 200,000 feet, reported Dr. Harold F. Allen, project director from the University of Michigan.

The earlier two launchings in the planned series of five were termed "qualified" successes in which neither flight yielded significant information on the weather.

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union has singled out Chrysler Corp. as its No. 1 strike target in efforts to secure new contracts for the nation's half-million auto plant workers.

UAW President Walter Reuther told newsmen Wednesday night that the walkout at Chrysler would begin at 10 a.m. Sept. 9 if no settlement is forthcoming by that time.

Reuther said Chrysler, General Motors and Ford — the auto industry's Big Three — all had adopted a "narrow, selfish attitude" in negotiations and are denying workers their fair share of record-breaking profits.

The union's contracts with all three firms expire Monday, but Reuther said the strike deadline was set beyond Labor Day to allow several extra days at the bargaining table in efforts to avoid a walkout.

President Johnson is expected to open his campaign in Detroit's Cadillac Square on Labor Day.

Observers have pointed out that with a auto strike in progress, the President might have found such an appearance be-

Democrats Acclaim Johnson-Humphrey

Goldwater Has Yacht Holiday, Writes Speech

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater sought privacy at sea today after thrusting the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam squarely into his campaign against President Johnson.

While the Democratic National Convention nominated Johnson and chose Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota to run with the President, the Republican nominee for the White House cruised the waters off Southern California.

Lolling against the stern rail of a borrowed 83-foot yacht Wednesday, Goldwater:

—Declared he thinks the Johnson administration is trying to negotiate a settlement of the Southeast Asian fighting before Election Day; said that timing would be wrong and added he fears such an agreement would be a giveaway to the Communists.

—Said some form of negotiations with Red China "might be profitable" — when pro-Western forces can deal from a position of strength in Southeast Asia.

—Labeled the U.S.-backed war against Communists in South Viet Nam an issue of major concern to the voters in the presidential race.

Goldwater, striking a theme he raised in Cleveland, Ohio, two days ago, said he expects to hear "most any day" of a negotiated settlement in Viet Nam.

The senator told reporters at the floating news conference in Catalina Island's Avalon harbor his "political bones" tell him word of negotiations can be expected before Election Day.

"I hope it's not a giveaway to the Communists," he said. "I suspect that's what it will be if we have one."

Not The Right Time
Goldwater said this is not the time for peace talks. "Before any negotiations are begun that involve us directly or indirectly, we must improve our military position," he said. "I don't think the military situation is such that we have much to bargain with."

Goldwater said he read a newspaper report forecasting negotiations for peace in South Viet Nam. He mentioned a Central Intelligence Agency report, saying it also talked of negotiations.

He said that "is the typical pattern" used to prepare the public for an announcement that negotiations have been held.

"I feel from that that we are considering it and we are closer to it than Congress or the public realize," he said.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey

President Lyndon B. Johnson

Convention Was Slick White House Planning

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — To Lyndon B. Johnson even minor political details are to be studied, to be worried about, and, if anything goes wrong, to blow one's stack over.

Never has this been better illustrated than at the Democratic National Convention.

Wednesday night the whooping delegates nominated Johnson by acclamation.

They waited patiently for the word and when it came, they shouted Hubert H. Humphrey in as their choice for vice president.

They avoided floor fights and adopted a platform with scarcely a dissenting voice, something that hasn't been done in at least a generation.

What Doctor Ordered
In short, they did precisely what the political doctor in the White House ordered.

In talking with those who have been deeply involved in this convention, one gets this picture: what happened — or, more importantly, what didn't happen — isn't so much the result of Johnson the busy telephoner as it is of Johnson the careful planner.

A man close to the President used this as an illustration: When vice presidential book-lets for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy began, Johnson quickly cut him, and a few others, from the running — and thus removed the one man — and the one family — who might have stolen the show from him here.

Even the tribute to the late President John F. Kennedy was prudently put off until tonight: No use stirring up a lot of emotion until all decisions have been made.

Hot Issue Cooled
Or take the hottest issue this convention had to face: Which delegation from Mississippi should be seated.

A week ago Saturday Humphrey was in California. While there he talked with such Democratic leaders as Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Sen. Pierre Salinger, Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and State Controller Alan Cranston about the potentially explosive Mississippi situation.

When he returned to the White House, he reportedly told Johnson: "If this gets to a vote on the floor, we're done. It's too emotional."

The upshot: Humphrey, who helped to split the party in 1948 by leading a civil rights fight, now was to work to soothe everything over.

Everything was thought of, Atty. Gen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota, one of Humphrey's most loyal followers, just happened to be named head of the subcommittee to handle this problem.

Switchboard Jammed
Johnson runs a peculiar shop. He apparently doesn't like titles, and he wants men who are eager to work, and to work in complete anonymity. So there is no clearest division of duties, and Johnson's agents may fan out in all directions, with several of them working on the same problem from different angles.

The Atlantic City White House took form here early, and by the time the party was in session, the switchboard was so jammed with repeatedly got busy signals when you tried to dial it.

Walter Jenkins, a longtime friend and administrative assistant, was chief of staff of the operations.

Often you would hear this phrase: "He talked with the White House about that." This could mean he talked with Johnson; more probably it meant he talked with an assistant.

Perhaps the most significant thing in all this is how complete the planning was.

Clifton Carter, who looks after endless political details for Johnson, and Richard Maquire, Democratic treasurer, had a series of workshops going this week which in effect laid the groundwork for the fall campaigns.

Swimming Beach To Close Friday

The municipal bathing beach will officially close for the season Friday, Aug. 28, it was announced today by Paul Vardigan of the city recreation department. Lifeguards will not be on duty over the weekend.

Although attendance at the beach fell off during the cool weeks of August, beach patronage reached 1,200 on the hot days of June and July. During most of July attendance averaged about 1,000 per day with 600 to 700 enjoying the city sponsored facility in the afternoons.

Francis Lueneburg, in his 18th season at the beach, directed activities on the waterfront and instructed the boys in the Beginners Division swimming classes. Susan Snyder, graduate of the National Aquatic School, assisted in the conducting of the swimming classes, taking charge of the girls in the Beginners Division.

John Fisher served as water safety instructor and conducted the Junior and Senior Life Saving classes for boys and girls 12 years of age and older. He was assisted by Fred Swank, Jr., who returned to the beach after a lapse of several years.

Pete Fregotto was in charge of the Swimmers, Intermediate, and Advanced classes in addition to performing guard duty on weekends. Robert Anderson served as lifeguard until the middle of July when he was replaced by Wally Schultz after requesting a leave of absence. Dave Vardian completed his first complete season as a lifeguard and Marvin Lueneburg served as a relief man during the month of August.

Swimming lessons were offered in cooperation with the American Red Cross which provides scholarships to the National Aquatic School and life-saving literature and material. A total of 135 youngsters completed their training in the Beginners Division and 59 boys and girls passed the tests in the Intermediate age group. In the Swimmers Division 20 youngsters completed the course and were successful in the tests. Junior Life Saving certificates were awarded to 10 candidates and Senior Life Saving certificates were earned by 9 of the older swimmers. Total registrations for swimming classes reached a high of 565 during the second week of July.

The concession stand in the beach house was operated by St. Anne Parish under the direction of Fr. Mayrand and Fr. Richards. A checking system for clothing was available for children and adults for a small fee. Playground equipment and picnic tables next to the beach house was used by tourists and local area people.

New safety equipment at the beach this summer included a 12 foot aluminum row boat acquired in June, and two more sets of oars, bringing the number of rescue boats available to four. The most modern piece of safety equipment was a torpedo buoy, always in readiness for long distance rescue work. A new life guard tower was installed during the first week of July.

Plans for next year call for the installation of two additional slides and another merry-go-round. An attempt will be made to initiate adult night swimming classes, which will be conducted under the direction of a qualified instructor.

More than 100 million persons are expected to visit national parks this year — 68 million of them between March and August. This will be six million more visitors than in 1963.

CHILLY BREEZES cut down the audience for the Escanaba City Band concert at Ludington Park Wednesday night, but one of the listeners, Richard (Dutch) Flath, was cozy in his popcorn wagon just back of the bandshell seats. As a tribute, the band director, Cecil Collins, dedicated a number on the program to Flath, who seldom, if ever, misses a concert. The popcorn wagon has been in service for 40 years, and still runs as smoothly as a Rolls-Royce.

P.S. We appreciate your time and effort.

St. Francis Hospital had 137 in patients on Wednesday. It had to set up extra beds to accommodate some of them. The normal hospital bed load at this time of year is about 100. There's no epidemic nor discernible special reason for the high hospital population, just a lot of hospital business. Its general trend is upward.

C&NW Ore Dock Work Increases Local Loadings

B. J. Gallagher Marine Construction Co. is only 10 days from completion of the work of dredging the slips at the Chicago & North Western Railway ore dock in Escanaba, which it began in mid-May.

Current work is on the south side of the big dock, with two derrick scows in operation bucketing up the bottom and moving it two miles away to the old North Western dock in downtown Escanaba, where it is being used as fill.

The main trench in the slip on the north side of the dock has been cut and 90 per cent of dredging completed there, but some cleanup work remains to be done, plus the completion of work on the south slip. The marine contractors have shifted their operations about to avoid interference with loading of lake carriers with iron ore and with pelleted ore.

The trenches being dredged in the slips to permit full loading of the Great Lakes largest ore carriers are 85 feet wide, and their outer third is 100 feet wide. They are dredged to a present depth of 29 feet, which is 30 feet below low water datum.

This dredging will permit loading of boats to a depth of 27 feet.

The Paul H. Carnahan of the Hanna Line loaded Tuesday to a depth of 24 feet 9 inches and took away 20,646 tons. The Leon Falk of the Hanna line took 20,719 tons recently from the Escanaba dock.

The low lake levels had made it impossible for the Great Lakes' biggest carriers to load fully here before the dock sheeting and dredging depths in the Detroit river still limit carrying there. The Detroit Edison, hauling pelleted iron to Detroit, has loaded to a depth of 24 feet 6 inches here on recent trips.

The Gallagher crews are completing work on a $1,300,000 project started by Bates & Rogers, Chicago marine contractors, who sheeted the big dock with steel piling to permit dredging to depth below its wood piles.

The settlement agreement prepared by the Board provided for full reinstatement of the three employees to their former positions, and reimbursement for loss of pay suffered as a result of discrimination against them by the company.

In addition the company would be required to bargain collectively with the Union with respect to rates of pay, hours of employment and other conditions of employment. They must also agree that they will not discourage union activity.

Dr. Stewart Erhard of Eaton Rapids will be the speaker Saturday morning at the Upper Peninsula Auditorium, 210 S. 23rd St. at 9:30 a. m.

On his way to begin a "Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking" in Houghton Saturday night, Dr. Erhard will stop here in Escanaba to give a temperance talk, show a film, and have a question and answer period. Alumni of Escanaba's "Five-Day Plan" and others interested in stopping smoking are invited.

Dr. Erhard and his brother, Pastor John Erhard of the local Seventh-day Adventist Church have conducted the Five-Day Plans in Saginaw, Royal Oak, Eaton Rapids, and Charlotte. They have also trained two other minister-doctor teams in Michigan.

Delta Sending 16 To 4-H Show

Sixteen Delta County 4-H members will be leaving Monday, Aug. 31 for the 49th annual State 4-H Show at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

For many of the 16 members this event is a culmination of a year's hard work. For others it is a reward for many years of hard work and achievement in the 4-H program.

The members have all earned the right to the trip through competition with 4-H members within Delta County and throughout the Upper Peninsula.

Several areas of 4-H Club work will be represented by the Delta County delegation. Seven Respond To League Quiz

The Escanaba League of Women Voters has received replies from seven candidates in its current voters' service project in advance of the Sept. 1 primary election.

All of the primary candidates for congressional and legislative offices were invited to reply to the League's questions. Seven submitted answers prior to the deadline, said Mrs. Earl Owen, the League's voters service chairman.

The question: "What do you consider the chief issues facing Michigan today and how should they be resolved?"

Kent T. Lundgren, (R), incumbent, 37th senatorial district. Formerly of Menominee. New address 223 Ludington St., Escanaba. Graduate of University of Wisconsin. A pharmacist.

Answer: Keep Michigan on the move forward.

Proper reapportionment for both rural and urban areas of our state—not the crazy-quilt pattern in front of Michigan voters for this 1964 election.

Preservation of our traditional check and balance form of government—legislative, judicial and executive.

Continued emphasis on proper medical aid to the aged and to our mental health institutions.

Adequate progressive aid to all levels of education and special emphasis on community colleges development.

Encourage with aggressive and positive action programs and plans for Northern Michigan which will encourage manufacturing and processing plants to move into our area.

Expanded well planned tourist programs.

Maintain good state government consistent with our state's growth and income.

Thomas F. Schweigert, (R), Petoskey, 37th senatorial district. Served two terms in the Michigan Senate and elected to three terms as an Emmet County supervisor. Has bachelor of science degree, Michigan State University, and is a consulting forester-land surveyor.

Answer: An important state level issue is apportionment of the Legislature. Michigan should join with other states in support of basing seats in one of a two house legislature on factors other than strict population alone.

Other state level issues are: Maintenance of fiscal integrity while providing for unmet needs in education, mental health, recreational facilities, etc.; completion of implementation of the new constitution in areas such as county home rule, election procedures, the judicial system, and reorganization of the executive branch into no more than 20 principal departments; and resolution of annexation problems by means of creation of a Boundary Commission.

Expansion of the tourist and resort industry by means of greater promotional activity and research; a more favorable toll schedule at the Mackinac Bridge; continued railway and ferry service for Northern Michigan; and a more equitable school aid formula are needed.

Fred K. Taber, (R), Alpena, candidate for 37th district state senator. Former Mayor of Alpena, City Planning Commission, County Board of Supervisors. Life insurance agent.

Answer: "I pledge fulltime attention to a vigorous quest for solutions to the problems of the people in the 14-county district, insofar as state government can help."

Harold J. Vanlerberghe, (R), Escanaba for state senator, 37th District. Employed as traffic manager, Mead Corp., Escanaba Division. Active in civic affairs of the community; co-organizer and past executive officer and present county delegate of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress. Now member of the City Council and of the Delta County Board of Supervisors.

Answer: One of the chief issues is more jobs and if possible an endeavor to create a more equitable distribution of job opportunities. This could be done by regional or state planning by designated agency working in cooperation with our educational institutions, private interests, government, and other sources of talent.

Changing conditions produce new needs and the measure of a people is their ability to change with changing conditions. An example of this is U.P.C.A.P. The counties of the U. P. have joined together to work towards a common goal of economic expansion for the area.

Natural gas or other low priced fuels should be made available in those areas in need of economic development. Forests are vital to the physical and economic security of Michigan and forestry should be stimulated by appropriate forest tax laws or other induc-ments which make applied forestry economically possible.

In regards to mining—tax policy, government regulation of financing, public land policy, should be so framed and administered as to encourage explorations for domestic mineral deposits and their development by private capital.

An effort to reduce or alleviate the toll charge on the Mackinac Bridge should be the subject of appropriate study and action.

Todd V. Gayeff, (D) Escanaba, candidate for 37th district state senator. Electrical engineer; AEG Electrical Company. Founded Delta Cable TV Co. Special electrical engineering services in World War II.

Answer: "Although a booming national economy has been reflected in the tides of Michigan's fortunes, the 37th District has not equally shared in this new wealth. Strong voices are needed in Lansing if we are to be heard. Recent sales tax figures have pointed out that Northern Michigan has not shared in these new-found gains.

"There are definite Michigan programs which have been committed myself to. As a state senator I would do my best to:

"1—Hold the line on property taxes. 2—Promote action designed to help our senior citizens. 3—Work for increased aid for community colleges. 4—Fight water pollution.

"5—Cooperate with the federal government programs for jobs and economic growth. 6—Vote for legislation to provide treatment for all of Michigan's mentally ill. 7—Seek ways of providing vocational education for our school dropouts.

"8—Back President Johnson's war on poverty as it pertains to Michigan and the 37th district. 9—Conserve and develop Michigan's vacationland potential in such projects as Pictured Rocks. 10—Seek ways to promote jobs for people over 40."

Marian Gibson, (R) Newberry, 107th district representative in the state legislature. She is a graduate of Wayne University and is a medical technologist; was president of the Newberry Board of Education; and a member of the boards of the Michigan Association of School Boards and of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Answer: "Some of the chief issues facing Michigan at the present time are maintenance of the state's fiscal integrity; establishment of a sound economic base; a high level of education for all of our young people, including emphasis on preparation for employment of school dropouts.

"Naturally I am most concerned with the problems of the 107th legislative district which can be helped to best advantage by establishment of a stable tax base, which will also help the overall property tax and create employment for young people who now find it necessary to find employment elsewhere. We need these young people to remain in the Upper Peninsula—Our Youth is our Future."

Theodore G. Albert, (D), 11th district congress candidate. An Ironwood lawyer, Albert is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, has served as prosecuting attorney of Gogebic County. Friend of the Court and Circuit Court Commissioner.

Questions of the League covered the opinion of the candidate on: U. S. policy on economic aid to the developing nations in Asia, East Africa and Latin America; Congressional action on civil rights; domestic economic problems priorities.

Answers: I believe in economic aid to the nations named, but this is dependent on the simultaneous increase of the influence of international bodies. Economic aid would decrease the existing perils in the world.

Continued civil rights legislation only tends to limit the possible construction of civil rights to the colored people. This is especially true in public accommodations and use of public facilities.

The Federal government should give immediate attention to educational needs. Aid to education gives inner strength to the very fibre of our nation. This aid should not be limited to mere public school attendants, but to non-public school as well.

As there is a growing need upon the part of the states to use the Federal government, and to be otherwise subsidized by the Federal government, clear line distinctions of power must be made evident to the individual citizen.

Davit Urges Teachers To Meet Challenge

Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D.D., Bishop of Marquette, officially opened the 13th annual Upper Peninsula Catholic Educational Association Convention Wednesday morning with a Pontifical low mass celebrated at the Holy Name High School gymnasium.

About 300 teachers from Upper Peninsula Catholic Schools were on hand at the opening of the two-day conference. Sessions include division for elementary, secondary, music and administrative instructors.

Rev. James L. Donnelly, president, U.P.C.E.A., was chairman for the general session Wednesday morning that followed the mass. He spoke briefly and introduced keynote speaker, Allen Davit, director of secondary education at the Diocese of Buffalo, N.Y.

Davit spoke on the challenge of Catholic education in the sixties. He called this era a period of transition in education, abounding in changes. He called upon the teachers to change if the reasons for change are valid.

"We all share trepidation for the challenges we must meet in the future years in Catholic Schools. The two problems of greatest concern for us are money and man power," Davit said.

Need More Money
Davit felt there were three possible solutions to the money problem: to diminish current spending; to maintain the current spending or finally to expand.

According to Davit some Catholics feel current spending on schools could be cut and used for better purposes in the church such as adult education or the Fraternity of Christian Doctrine.

"There is no proof that these programs will improve if more money is spent on them rather than in schools. Current studies justify the claim that schools are needed to help the Church in America."

Davit attributes the current growth and strength of the Church to the phenomenal growth of Catholic Schools.

"We can not plan to maintain the current spending," Davit said, "we must plan for replacement, expansion and control of deterioration in our schools."

Since it is apparent that Catholic Schools will continue to grow, more money is needed and Davit asked, "Where is it going to come from?"

"Our schools have to rely on the generosity of the laity and parents, who support two schools, public and parochial," he stated, "I feel the laity would be more willing to give if educators were willing to manifest to them where the money is being spent. If they see the exact needs in writing they will react generously and will also help to improve school business practices."

Federal Aid
"Another source of funds is federal aid. It is the general attitude that if federal aid to schools goes through, it should be for both public and Catholic schools. Our schools need the federal aid as much as public schools."

"Constitutionally, lawyers say it is possible for Catholic schools to receive this aid and national opinion polls are showing that ideas are changing. It is my contention that if Catholic schools are helping the country then the nation must help these schools."

The second challenge to Catholic schools is man power, will there be enough teachers and will they be good enough? Davit encouraged a campaign to draw students to the profession. "Our teachers are becoming more highly educated lately, we are not simply a collection of second rate rejects with inferior education and quality is more important than numbers, Davit said.

"There is one other challenge raised daily in our system and that is the need for improvement in preparing children for current times. We develop in ourselves a personal commitment to this cause. Object to selling Catholic education short," he concluded.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS

RALPH S. KAZIATECK, Manager
JEAN WORTH, Editor

Detroit Newspaper Strike

Governor Romney was to meet today with the striking unions of Detroit's two daily newspapers and with their publisher's in an effort to end the strike which has suspended publication of both newspapers since July 13.

Briefed on the walkout by the state labor mediation chief before the meetings, Romney said "I didn't learn anything encouraging."

This is the public reaction to the impasse. This is the seventh time that Detroit's newspapers have been struck in 9 years. The situation has deteriorated into almost a strike-a-year suspension of Michigan's service by its metropolitan press.

Much of the comment and report on the strike is concerned with the demands of the 450 employees of two striking unions of the two papers, whose walkout has idled all 4,100 people employed by them, and with the offers of the publishers. The public concern does not rest on these matters; they are intimate and internal points of bargaining between the managements and the unions.

The public concern is over the question whether Michigan is to keep a metropolitan press as free as it has been in the past. It is said that newspaper publishing is so complex its skills on the two dailies are in 11 different unions. Freedom is also complex and it is fragile, too.

Inability of Detroit's dailies to avoid a strike every year or so will eventually strongly affect their character and may even involve the survival of one of the dailies. A few years ago Detroit had three dailies. Forty-five days ago it had two. Since then it has had none.

If the public is to continue to give legal sanction to the right of two small unions to suspend our metropolitan press, a serious and undesirable change is invited in Michigan's system of intelligence. The strike has denied the state metropolitan coverage of the primary election campaign ending Sept. 1.

This is a serious loss of public information. Our democracy is founded upon an informed electorate and our metropolitan press is vital to the state's information. These big newspapers are the chief news gathering organizations of the state. Their activities beef up all the smaller efforts to give them much of the best of their reporting and especially interpretation of the news. They contribute their lions share of information to the news services which transmit it to the state's daily newspapers, radio stations and TV stations.

They cover the legislature, the Supreme Court, the departments of state government, the City of Detroit. They maintain bureaus in Washington, Lansing, New York and elsewhere to gather the news of special importance to Michigan. And especially they employ brilliant specialists to write about complex matters like government, defense, science, education, the economy, politics, etc.

It is a dangerous error to think that Detroit's newspapers are significant in Michigan only because they are larger than the other newspapers of the state. They are very different from the rest of the press and uniquely meaningful to Michigan's organization of information for decision making.

To let a jungle warfare of labor-management cut off their service to the state is dangerous. To let it become chronic is a serious failure of government, of management and of unionism. It means that our system of information is on trial and troubled. Freedom rides on its health.

The Doctor Says: Alcohol Book Recommended

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Alcoholic beverages are a part of the life of about 67 per cent of all persons over 15 in this country. Because of this statistic, Frances Todd believes that teen-agers should be taught something about drinking. To this end she has written "Teaching About Alcohol" (McGraw-Hill paperback). Parents of teenagers would do well to read this book.

A careful distinction must be drawn among drinking, drunkenness and alcoholism. Just as a single drink does not make a person a little bit drunk, as some extremists have maintained, neither does getting tipsy at times necessarily indicate alcoholism.

By the time your youngster reaches his teens he will probably have tasted alcohol in some form and will probably have made up his mind whether or not he will drink. It is important that he realize that both a decision to drink or not to drink is socially acceptable.

Most important of all, he should understand the special risks of drinking before he reaches full maturity. The pressures to drink are probably a little greater for the teenage boy than for the teen-age girl.

What, then, are the hazards associated with teen-age drinking? Since a person's tolerance for alcohol is in large part determined by his body weight, and since some teen-agers have not yet attained their full adult stature, it follows that smaller amounts of alcohol will be needed to depress their higher brain centers.

Furthermore, your adolescent child is more apt to experience psychological intoxication. All emotional experiences in teen-agers are magnified beyond the comprehension of their parents. Thus, it will take very little alcohol to plunge a teen-ager into an emotional crisis which may result in an unfortunate fight or an even more unfortunate love affair. An adolescent—nor anybody else—does not need alcohol to help him meet his personal problems. He must learn to face them squarely without the crutch of best of inebriation.

But there are physiological as well as psychological reasons why a little alcohol may affect a teenager adversely. Until a person's stomach has gotten used to alcohol, nausea and vomiting may occur. This is the opposite of the desired effect, and may ruin what started out to be a gay party.

The greatest risk is the effect of alcohol on the inexperienced drinker who is also an inexperienced driver. Alcohol has made too many teenagers irresponsible behind the wheel.

It is best not to introduce your adolescent son or daughter to alcohol but, if you must do so, do it very gradually. Start with beer or wine and make it a truly educational experience, not a vicious habit.

ATLANTIC CITY—(NEA)—The man on President Johnson's top staff calls it the "shock factor."

As in the 1964 Democratic convention, so in the campaign to come, it will be woven like a stout thread into the utterances of candidates high and low.

What is the shock factor? The suggestion, not subtly hinted but boldly hammered, that the President's GOP rival, Sen. Barry Goldwater, is not to be trusted at the controls of this nation's mighty nuclear force.

Rhode Island's Sen. John Pastore, in his keynote speech, provided a perfect tipoff of what is to come.

In 16 crucial lines, punched out with all his oratorical energy, Pastore—without ever mentioning Goldwater's name—drew attention to recurring charges that the senator is unfit to sit near the A-bomb button.

It is learned that the Rhode Islander put that material into his speech when it was in its roughest beginnings. He believed it was a most important element. And the President knew well in advance this shock factor would be stressed.

High-placed Democrats clearly have concluded that Goldwater is glaringly vulnerable in this field. It seems to them an issue begging for the fullest possible exploitation in the campaign ahead.

This reporter's recent talks with Republican leaders in more than 30 states confirm that this is indeed the gaping hole in Goldwater's armor. In instance after instance they say: "Goldwater has problems in our state." Pressed to define them, they invariably single out voter concern over Goldwater's "nuclear responsibility" as the No. 1 difficulty.

It isn't plain just now how often and how fully the President himself will jump into this issue. Some aides, and a good share of the key party figures taped at the Democratic convention, think he should leap in only when the provocation—or the opportunity—seems greatest.

The prevailing thought today in party circles is that the "irresponsibility" thread should be laced into thousands of fall campaign speeches below the presidential level.

But Johnson loves the smell of political combat, and he may find himself descending from his lofty presidential perch more often than is presently planned—especially if he is sharply goaded by Goldwater and his running mate, that scrappy bantam rooster, Rep. William Miller of New York.

In the closing weeks of his springtime nomination campaign, Goldwater and his managers sought to minimize the unreliability problem by reducing his off-cuff public responses almost to zero. Democrats anticipate he may continue on this tack, forcing them to chop at older portions of his verbal record.

Yet one Plains State senator sees a different sort of trouble for Goldwater if he plays it this way all through the fall: "He can't switch from red meat to milk toast without arousing the concern of his own partisans," this man says.

A considerable number of leading Democrats believe

Goldwater simply will not be able to maintain a total embargo on impromptu appearances. If and when he makes them, they foresee manifold opportunities for fresh ammunition.

Says Sen. Claiborne Pell, Pastore's junior Rhode Island colleague: "Goldwater is like quicksilver . . . probably the best means of attacking him is just to point out the record, to tell where he stands from one day to another."

Nobody who heard Pastore's old-fashioned stemwinder at Atlantic City can imagine any Democrat is going to be bashful about doing that every working day between now and Nov. 3.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Forty-five years of government service end this week for James V. Bennett, renowned penologist and director of the Bureau of Prisons—a post he has held since 1937.

The gentle, blue-eyed reformer who changed the shape of the American prison system while he strove to change the hearts of its inmates retires Friday on his 70th birthday.

He takes with him the gratitude of hundreds of convicts who found in Bennett more a humanitarian than a custodian. He saw the danger of idle hands and gave them useful jobs to do.

He reminded them that they were still human beings by replacing lock-step mess hall lines and bucket feedings with informal table arrangements. He befriended many and became an easy mark for some who, out of prison, needed a small loan for a grubstake.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has said Bennett will continue to be a consultant to the Bureau of Prisons under its new director, Myrl E. Alexander, a former assistant director.

Computer Tells Who May Flunk Courses At MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—The mechanical brain of a computer now is helping Michigan State University figure out which new students might flunk out.

The computer is trained to sort through the records of some 14,000 freshmen and sophomores who might be headed for trouble because of academic difficulties. The students then are called in for conferences with human professors taking over after the mechanical brain has selected the subjects.

MSU spokesmen said the computer can obtain academic profiles on the students in a few hours. Before, secretaries had to scan the records for several weeks.

Letters To Ann Landers The Press Wasn't Drunk; Laugh It Off

DIM VIEW

I am writing to the boy who had his picture in the Escanaba paper with the caption, "If I were old enough to vote I'd vote 'Yes' on that four mill tax."

I am a boy, too. I am seven years old and live on a small farm.

I noticed that picture of you, Boy. You were well dressed. You had a new "barber" hair cut. You look like a boy who has never missed a meal in his whole life. I'm betting you are the son of some well-salaried parents like teachers or school administrators. Could be, too, that your father is a Chamber of Commerce man or that your mother is busy with the League of Women Voters.

Now I can't afford to have my picture taken. My dad cuts my hair and he ain't the best amateur barber! My clothes are hand-me-downs (way down) so in some places they fit too loose and other places they are too tight. Besides my mother's patches aren't always the same color and mom isn't the best tailor.

I do not look well fed because we got lots of kids in our family and so we divide and share.

We had a bad year this year on the farm. The crops never all froze and then the drought just finished what didn't freeze. We are all worried because the mortgage man is threatening to foreclose.

Our house is not so good. It leaks when it rains. It is pretty cold in the winter and the snow seeps in under the rafters. I hope my little sisters can get new shoes before the snow comes. I don't mean store new shoes but maybe some rummage sale ones. Some of them look like new.

My dad is not well but he tries hard to make a living. We would like to repair our house but with frost, drought, sickness and then on top of all that comes the taxes! We will get our tax bill just before Christmas. We will have bigger taxes this year with the jail tax and the large school tax. We kids worry about that tax bill because it takes every penny we all can scrape together.

I'm sending a letter to Santa Claus to mark us off his list this year . . . Taxes comes first! From across the tracks as it were,
Marky Hunter

LIKE UNIONS

One of the local unions, in a newsletter to their members, indicated that U. P. salaries are below national level. We know this and we wish they were higher. It is higher salaries elsewhere that draws our local high school students to other cities.

It is also stated in the same newsletter that tradesmen also had to gain additional education to keep abreast of technological changes. We are happy that they are doing this for themselves and their employers, because education never ceases.

We have no quarrel with any of these, but we would like to answer the union's question: what happens after the five years is up?

What do you do, as union members, when your contracts are up? Do you go back to the original contract and reduce your salary? If so, vote "NO" on this issue.

But if you increase your demands then you know that the schools just like you, are caught in the rising cost of living and operation. You know the 4 mills is needed and you know you should vote "YES".

Mrs. Donald Fitch
Mrs. Leonard Olson

Dear Ann Landers: Last night my husband and I decided to go to a movie. I wore my nicest maternity dress and my new white patent leather shoes. After about 15 minutes my feet began to ache, so I removed my shoes. When the movie was over I tried to get my shoes back on but it was impossible because my feet had swollen. (I am in my eighth month.)

My husband suggested we wait till the place cleared out so I could walk out "unnoticed" in my stocking feet. On the way to the parking lot — me with my shoes in my hand — several people stopped to start. One woman gasped, "Imagine being drunk in her condition. Isn't it disgraceful?"

This morning my husband called from the office and said everyone is talking about it. Should I phone a few people and explain? — HUMILIATED
Dear Humiliated: Explain what? That you really weren't drunk? Why give the incident moribund publicity? Laugh it off and forget it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am the mother of three sons. The problem concerns the youngest boy who is a high school senior.

Butch has a girl friend, Sally. They do not have much money to spend so they sit around in the evening and watch TV a lot. I've told Butch that when my husband and I are out for the evening, if he wants to have Sally over he must invite another couple to the house.

The boy accuses me of being mean and nasty-minded. He sulks and goes for days without speaking. Butch says when he visits Sally in her home HER parents don't impose such ridiculously strict rules.

If you feel I'm wrong and should change my ideas, please say so. — FIRM BUT SAD MOM

Dear Mom: No teen-age boy should be allowed to entertain a girl friend in his home when his parents are not present. What sense, pray tell, does another COUPLE make?

Tell Butch he can't have Sally over unless he asks you in advance. Then STAY AT HOME.

Dear Ann Landers: Pop has always been reckless with money. He has speculated in futures, invested in penny stocks and bought lots for $10 down and $10 a month. When things got tight he borrowed from loan companies and paid high interest rates. We never said anything because we figured it was his money.

Recently Pop became ill and had to quit work. His income has stopped. My husband and I are the only ones in the family who can help him financially. We have agreed to support him in a rest home if he will get rid of all his so-called investments and pay off as many of his debts as possible. Also, he must promise not to go for any more get-rich-quick schemes.

The rest of the family says we are unfair. They feel we should support Pop and not ask him to change his way of life.

If we do as the family says we will have to forego our vacations and dig into money set aside for our children's college education. Help! — THE GREAT DIVIDE

Dear Divide: Since the rest of the family has nothing to contribute but advice, use your own judgment.

It would be foolish to spend your savings to take care of a father who is throwing his money away on pie in the sky deals. Your plan makes sense.

Too many starry-eyed lovers do not know the difference. Do you? Send for ANN LANDER'S booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

They'll Do It Every Time

Dr. Spock Gets Library Assist

"Although the following books are directed toward parents who care about the growth and development of their children, many teachers are going to find these worthwhile, for they treat the interrelationship of home and school influences on the child," says Menominee County Librarian Ruth Thomas.

Parents have the children for the first six years, unless the school has a kindergarten; then they have the little ones for five. Those first six years are crucial in the life of the child. They make him whatever he will become. Except for his genetic endowment, these years will even determine whether he becomes bright or dull, whether he is creative, aggressive, docile, or full of eagerness and vitality.

"Education does begin in the home. Educators tell us that the child learns more in the first six years than in any other period of six years he will ever live. What he learns then will determine not only the quality of the life he will live; it can, as the old saw has it, literally determine the shape of all our futures.

"The guides listed below offer advice about what to do at every turn: when the child begins to talk; when he discovers the fascination of the "why" questions; when he tries to discover what makes the hi-fi work (or the mixer, the vacuum cleaner, etc.) More important, it is filled with reminders about the nourishment of creativity, courage, honesty, and other moral qualities.

"Our guides to children's reading plead that there be books in the home, that children be read to, that there be talk about books, and perhaps most important, that this interest on the part of teacher and parent must not stop when the children are on their own in reading.

"Bookmobile users may request these books through the bookmobile on its stops, by phoning headquarters in Stephenson at Plymouth 3-6923, or by writing to the library at Stephenson."

Machine Picks Elks Hunters

LANSING (AP) — A hunter from Muskegon was picked by the electronic computer set into action by Gov. George W. Romney as the first successful applicant for an elk hunting license.

Then, in rapid succession, the machine flipped out the names of a Pontiac man and a hunter from Grand Rapids as the early winners.

There were 23,339 names fed into the machine. Only 300 of the applicants will be allowed licenses. The season will be Dec. 5-13 and it is estimated about 200 elk will be killed, allowing for hunter misses.

The first named spewed out of the elaborate machine, which costs nearly $1 million, was that of John Benson of Muskegon. The second was James Mitchell of Pontiac. Third was Lee Trapp of Grand Rapids.

The successful applicants for the elk license will be notified as soon as possible, the Conservation Department said. Those rejected by the machine will receive back their $25 checks for the license fee.

Soo Retirement

O. J. Andersen, treasurer of the Soo Line Railroad since 1956, retires Aug. 31 after 49 years with the company. A file clerk when he joined the Soo in 1915, Andersen and his wife will move to a new home on Cross Lake, near Brainerd, Minn.

GESUNDHEIT — Well, it's sneezing season, as this quintet of suffering sneezers indicates all too clearly. Mid-August is blossom time for the unattractive greenish spikes of the ragweed plant, and about 1 in 20 Americans knows it as his period of annual torture. Eyes water, noses tickle and itch and sneeze after sneeze leave the victims weakened. And except for those lucky enough to travel anywhere outside the United States or in some wooded sections of the country during ragweed season, there's no escaping it. Even celebrities aren't immune (note Dick Van Dyke in the first photo). But sufferers can take some solace in the recent development of antihistamine drugs which has eased the discomfort.

Soo Training Director Named

Nelson P. Hickman has joined the staff of the Soo as director of training and personnel development. He will develop and administer programs designed to help employees improve their skills and their abilities to deal with the rapid changes occurring in railroad-ing.

Hickman comes to the Soo from Ohio State University. He was chairman of the Department of Graduate Studies and Management in the Defense Management Center. He is former Supervisor, Educational and Training Services for Chrysler Corp. and has taught high school and adult education courses in Michigan. He is a graduate summa cum laude of Central Michigan College and has a master's degree from the University of Michigan.

SAULT STE MARIE—Burns Department Store a Sault business landmark for more than the past four decades, is planning to close its doors.

Charles Trim, general manager of one of the Sault's largest clothing stores on Ashmun at Dawson, said the store will prepare for a liquidation sale which is slated to start today, Aug. 27.

No reason for the store's closing as given, and Trim said the firm's two other stores in Newberry and Munising will continue in operation. Trim said the liquidation sale will continue until all the stock is exhausted.

Last October he was honored at a special event held in the Masonic Temple here. At the time he was the 78th oldest Mason living in the U. S.

MENOMINEE—The finance and welfare committees of the Menominee County Board of Supervisors will investigate growing operating costs in the welfare department.

Carl Rye of Ingallston, chairman of the welfare committee, informed the board that letters were received from Frank Dulak, owner of the Menominee Nursing Home, and Clayton Roubal, operator of Roubal's Nursing Home at Talbot, explaining the rate increase from $7 to $7.50 per day for county patients.

Rye said the letter stated the county was to remove its patients from the two nursing homes if the county refused to meet the 50 cents per patient increase. There are 32 county patients at the Roubal home and 20 at the Dulak home, the board was told.

MICHIGAMME—Construction was scheduled to start Monday on a new telephone central office here to replace the existing building on First St., the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. announced today.

New Laws Take Effect Friday

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP)—If you're a housewife or teacher, drag racer or credit buyer, or even have an unhappy marriage, you may be affected by state laws that go into effect Friday.

Because it's the 90th day after adjournment of the 1964 legislature and hence the effective date of all 1964 public acts except those that went into immediate effect or set other starting dates.

The approximately 160 bills affect virtually everyone in Michigan.

Shopper Protected
The housewife should find store goods more clearly marked as to volume and price.

The public school teacher now can obtain mandatory tenure in any district of the state.

The drag racer can't use public streets for his race track anymore.

The credit buyer can get his full down payment refunded if a dealer refuses his credit application.

And the unhappy marriage

Soft Ore Made Into Pellets

LANSING (AP)—An iron ore improvement project that could bring rehabilitation to Upper Peninsula mining operations has passed its first test, say researchers.

The project object: to develop a method of improving the quality of conventional Michigan iron ores, thus making them more competitive with foreign ores and other domestic materials.

A report on early phases of the research was presented Tuesday at a progress meeting of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion, which is supporting the program with the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co.

M. E. Volin, of Michigan Technological University's Institute of Mineral Research, said preliminary laboratory work indicates a successful process can be developed.

The process would improve the grade and structure of ore which is now shipped as mined. The result would be a so-called pellet. The pellets would be of uniform size and physical characteristics, would be highly porous and would contain approximately 80 per cent iron.

Such pellets are currently the preferred feed for blast furnaces in metal production, he said.

This, said Volin, would compete with pellets now produced from the ore of open pit mines. Until now, no efficient process has existed for producing pellets from the so-called "soft" variety of ores which have been shipped for years from Upper Peninsula underground mines.

Preliminary work now indicates the desired pellets can be produced from "soft" ore by use of fine-grained solid carbon and heat.

Volin said it appears that the process time and fuel requirements are considerably less than in other iron ore reduction process.

Tests, he said, now must move from a laboratory to a continuous shaft reactor which is being built.

victim may be able to take advantage of a circuit court marriage counseling service authorized by the legislature.

The Weights and Measures Act of 1964 gives the housewife new protection in the market place. The price-per-unit must be clearly stated on random-weight goods such as cheese chunks.

A half-quart of some liquid is just that — no longer can it be called a full half — quart or a jumbo half-quart or any other term that might imply extra contents.

Packages must plainly state their weight or volume and must give the manufacturer's name.

Sales Tax Schedule
The shopper now will also pay sales tax according to this standardized collection table:

Purchase, 1-12 cents, tax, 0 cents; 13-31 cents, 1 cent; 32-54 cents, 2 cents; 55-81 cents, 3 cents; 82 cents - $1.08, 4 cents; $1.08-$1.35, 5 cents; $1.36-$1.62, 6 cents.

For each additional 25 cents in purchase, 1 cent more in tax.

Credit card purchases of liquor will become legal but it will be a misdemeanor to falsely represent yourself or someone else as 21 years old in order to buy liquor.

The state will be able to test any bodily substance of the alleged drunken driver instead of just blood as at present, but an arresting officer still must give him the right to refuse a test.

The drug user who has been obtaining opium from paregoric now will have to get a one-use-only prescription for the drug. It can't be purchased without one.

There no longer is a distinction between breaking and entering at night and during the day.

And if you're about to write a check to any agency of the state government, make it payable to "State of Michigan," not the agency.

Students Make Tourist Study

LANSING (AP)—If a college student stopped you this summer to inquire about your Michigan vacation, then you've become a statistic in a $78,000 project exploring economic aspects of the state's tourist industry.

It's too early to reach conclusions yet, say project officials, but the summer staff of nine interviewers is accumulating a mountain of facts.

A preliminary report on the study was presented Tuesday to the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion, which is financing the program under an appropriation designed to help spur the state's economy.

Interviewers are asking how much tourists spend on food, beverages, vehicle expenses and lodging, and inquire into general tourist experiences.

Spokesman Charles R. Owens of Central Michigan University's center for economic expansion said the study seeks to pinpoint the economic impact of the tourist on the economy, to identify tourists and to learn areas of potential new attractions.

Flivver Is Too Fast; Owner, 98, Wants To Sell It

PATTON, Pa. (AP) — Henry Myers, 98, wants to sell his 1928 Model A Ford sedan because "There's too much traffic and it moves too fast."

Myers said he bought the car new and paid $600 for it. He said it's been 68,000 miles—never over 50 miles per hour—and is in good condition.

"The fastest I ever drove was 45 miles an-hour and that was because I was in a funeral procession and I had to keep up with the other cars," he said.

Tourist Dollars Flow In Mexico

By AM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Yankee tourist dollars have been flowing freely to Mexico and the Caribbean but South America is getting comparatively few of them. And with American tourism a growing industry, wooed by many countries, the continent to the south may be missing a good bet.

That is the opinion of banking economists specializing in the financial relations of the Western Hemisphere. Their conclusion is that South American countries just aren't trying hard enough to get their share.

Klansmen Held In Gun Murder Of Negro Educator

DANIELSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Three men identified by the FBI as Ku Klux Klansmen have been indicted on charges of murder in the shotgun slaying of a Negro educator from Washington, D.C.

Prosecutor Cleve B. Johnson said the cases would be called for trial Monday.

Indicted by the Madison County grand jury Tuesday were James S. Lackey, 28; Joseph Howard Sims, 41; and Cecil William Myers, 25, all of Athens, Ga.

They were charged with slaying Lemuel Penn, 49, on a country road near Colbert July 11. Penn, a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve, was returning to Washington from summer training at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The debris of war still litters the beaches of many of the islands of Micronesia.

Americans last year spent $448 million in Mexico. U.S. travelers, mostly tourists, spent $150 million in 1963 in the Caribbean area. About 100,000 Americans spent $56 million traveling in South America, and a good part of that probably was spent on business trips rather than tourist jaunts.

The South American share of the total U.S. expenditure on tourist travel last year was only 2.5 per cent, little changed in the last five years when American travel abroad was increasing by leaps and bounds.

The Department of Commerce reports U.S. residents last year spent $3.2 billion in travel out of the country, much for pleasure though some for business. This was a gain of 11 per cent over 1962.

Admittedly, Mexico and the islands to the south have the advantage of closeness and less expensive transportation cost. But economists at the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York say that equally important have been the efforts made to attract tourists. These include advertising and setting up information centers in the United States, as well as upgrading hotel, dining and transportation facilities.

The bank economists report: "Last year, Mexican exports totaled $982 million, while tourism from all countries pulled in some $655 million. This permitted the country to show a $144-million surplus in its over-all balance of payments."

Jamaica is another example. Its total merchandise exports last year came to $26 million, but receipts from U.S. tourists were $40 million.

The economists say Venezuela and Colombia have made some efforts to get in on the gravy, but the rest of South America has done very little.

Pope Asks End Of Arms Race

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI warned that "some of those basic principles on which peace must be founded," are crumbling.

In an impassioned appeal against an arms race, the Pontiff begged men to remember what caused two devastating world wars, and deplored what he called a return to the "illusory concept that peace can only be based on the terrifying power of extremely homicidal weapons."

Pope Paul said the world is seeing a rebirth of perilous concepts, that the "concept of the sacred and inviolable character of human life" has been obscured.

"Men of good will, listen to our humble words," the Pontiff implored.

The Pope spoke to his weekly general audience at his summer residence south of Rome.

Pope Paul decried "subversive propaganda and revolutionary disorders," and said that even pacifist statements are misused to promote social and political contrasts. This may have been a reference to pro-Communist "peace movements."

Pope Paul said his thoughts were stirred by the current anniversary commemorations of the start of World Wars I and II. He expressed concern at the "acute disagreements, already stained with blood and pregnant with menacing omens existing today between various countries."

MAJESTIC'S On Highway US-2 ENSIGN

Sault Planning Hiawatha Fete

SAULT STE. MARIE--Civic leaders here are planning to honor the legendary Indian hero Hiawatha with a 10-day Hiawatha Festival starting Sept. 26 and running through to Oct. 4.

More than 20 events are scheduled to round out the 10-day celebration, starting with a 48-hour manhunt in the wilds of heavily-wooded Sugar Island in the St. Mary's River on the outskirts of Sault Ste. Marie.

Keynote feature will be a Hiawatha Pageant staged Oct. 3 and 4 at 7:30 p. m. in a floodlight wilderness setting by Chippewa Indian descendants of Hiawatha's tribe.

The pageant will be acted out against a backdrop of hardwoods and birches on a grassy shore of Rotary Island in the river near the Sugar Island ferry dock.

Spectators will watch from bleacher seats on the mainland across a 150 foot canal while Indian actors portray in pantomime events from the legend of Hiawatha.

Some of the characters will arrive in canoes from a lagoon nearby. Events will be narrated over a loudspeaker system by Ed Krieger, while a musical background will be provided by the 35-voice Mary Wood Chorus of the Sault.

Indian characters are being recruited by Herman Cameron, president of the Bay Mills Indian Council, from among Indian families living on the Bay Mills Reservation 20 miles west of the Sault.

These are descendants of the Salteur Chippewa tribe that lived on the Sault Rapids when European explorers first entered the country more than three centuries ago.

This is the tribe from which the Hiawatha legend was derived. Hiawatha's home was in the Sault, calling Pauwating by the Indians, and in the Tahquamenon River country to the west.

The Hiawatha legend was collected from the tales of local Indians by Henry Rowe Schoolcraft when he was a resident Indian agent at the Sault in the 1820's. From Schoolcraft's researches poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow wrote his epic poem, 'The Song of Hiawatha,' which was published in 1855.

In addition to the Sault and Tahquamenon country, the poem describes events which Indian legend says occurred along the Grand Sable Banks and Pictured Rocks areas on the southern Lake Superior shore to the west.

The 10-day festival is sponsored by the Sault Ste. Marie Chamber of Commerce with Russ Staffeld as general chairman. Jack Somes is chairman of the pageant.

Liquor By Glass Petitions Filed For Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The Kalamazoo Jaycees Tuesday filed petitions bearing 10,365 signatures calling for a popular vote Nov. 3 on a proposal that would allow sale of liquor by the glass in the city.

Similar proposals were defeated in 1956 and 1960, although receiving 46 per cent of the vote in 1956 and 48 per cent in 1960.

About 7,800 valid signatures are needed to force an election on the issue. The petitions have not yet been validated.

A week ago, a citizens group in nearby Comstock Township filed petitions that will force an election in November on the same issue.

A similar petition drive is underway in suburban Kalamazoo Township.

Shouting Scares Bold Bank Bandit

BOSTON (AP)—Teller Robert Mathias of the Suffolk-Franklin Bank in Park Square was handed a note Tuesday.

"You will act quite natural and follow the instructions explicitly. Your failure to do so or to give an alarm will force me to shoot you or anyone who interferes, regardless of my personal safety. Now quickly put all the bills in the envelope. If you are not still I will open fire on anyone."

Mathias dropped to the floor and shouted, "Robbery! Robbery!"

The bandit fled.

THERE IS a big difference between costs and prices; a plain bar of iron is worth about $5.00. This same bar of iron, made into horseshoes is worth $10.50. If made into needles, its value is $3,285.00; and if turned into balance springs for watches, it attains a worth of $250,000.00. The same is true of crude drugs; their value is determined by what is made from them.

Report Reveals Defense Waste

WASHINGTON (AP) — You brag in this town at your own peril.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara held a news conference July 7 to announce his cost reduction program has saved $2.5 billion last year.

Since then there have been 28 reports — little noticed for the most part — by the General Accounting Office pointing out where it said the Defense Department should have saved even more.

The GAO accountants also produced three additional reports pointing out where what they called sloppy supervision on the part of commanders had reduced the combat efficiency of four spot-checked units, including an anti-aircraft missile base.

After examining 66 armored personnel carriers and cargo trucks belonging to the 30th Infantry Regiment in Germany, the GAO found 216 major defects and 2,300 less serious ones.

The GAO checked out the maintenance on the reconnaissance sance and liaison aircraft of the 1st and 2nd Armored divisions at Ft. Hood, Tex., and found it so poor that "the combat readiness of these divisions was impaired."

Poor maintenance, said the GAO, was the primary factor in the crash and total loss of a $200,000 aircraft.

At an unidentified anti-aircraft missile base somewhere overseas, the GAO reported the management of spare parts was so inefficient that $30 million worth of missile gear was inoperable.

As for the other GAO reports, they include such findings as these:

—The Army wasted $1.3 million buying utility caps which cost $1.08 each and required special laundering, whereas the Marines and Seabees were buying 57-cent utility caps which could be washed under any circumstances.

—At the U.S. Army Engineer depot just outside Seoul, Korea, was $376,000 worth of unneeded spare parts and the depot was in the process of ordering $101,600 more stock it didn't need.

—Further, the Korean depot had suffered a $12.6 million inventory loss which it hadn't investigated.

British Motor Industry Booms

LONDON (AP)—The boom in Britain's motor industry goes on with exports hitting an all time record $1,128,000,000 for the first half of 1964, it was announced Wednesday.

Figures issued by the Society of British Motor Manufacturers disclosed the value of exports for the period ending June 30 was $140 million over the previous high last year.

In June, 58,222 autos were shipped overseas, bringing the 1964 half year total to 366,195. Commercial vehicle exports totaled 89,384 units, only 4,397 short of the 1961 peak half year.

Production soared, too. Output of cars and commercial vehicles in June was 200,674 and 48,273 respectively.

These figures brought the weekly average output for the first six months of 1964 to 38,366—about 7,500 more than for the corresponding period last year.

In all, more than 1,250,000 cars and commercial vehicles were produced in the first half of the year. This was almost 250,000 up on 1961, the previous peak production year.

Joint Meeting

Covenant Women of Evangelical Covenant Church will hold a joint meeting at the church at 8 p. m. today. Hostesses are Mrs. John Lingren and Mrs. Walter Erickson. Visitors are welcome to attend.

Personals

Don McDonald, Upper Peninsula football coach of the year last season at Stambaugh, is another mentor facing a big rebuilding chore this fall. McDonald lost a dozen lettermen from the 1963 team that fashioned a 7-1 season record. One of the biggest holes to fill will be that left by Don Mylchreest, rugged fullback who made the All-Menominee Range conference team and the All-U.P. second team. The Hilltoppers open the season Sept. 5 at Negaunee.

At Iron River, Coach Al Sandona has 12 lettermen back from last year's squad, all regulars on offense or defense. Heading the list of returnees is Jim Johnson, a 185 pound dashman at halfback and Dane Damini, lanky junior quarterback who has been a regular since his freshman year. The Redskins lost only five lettermen through graduation. They open their season Sept. 5 at Hancock.

Taking first place in the 13 inch female class in the Marquette Beagle Club field trials last weekend was Delta De Noc Spooky, owned by Art Lied of Gladstone Beagles owned by Miles Dupie of Escanaba and Dwayne Johnson of Rapid River finished second and fourth in that class.

Big Joe Bociak of the host Iron River Country Club won the shortstop tournament at that course last weekend, topping a field of 52 Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin golfers. Medalist with a 71 was Dennis Tizziana of Ironwood.

Rick Magoon of Marquette scored a hole in one at the Marquette Country Club, capping his tee shot on the 170 yard No. 6 hole with a 3-wood. Russ Perlich, Bill Vasseau and Bill Magoon were in his foursome.

The Upper Peninsula Field Archery Association's annual championship event will be staged Sept. 13 at the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Silver Hawk Club range near Iron Mountain. Iron River won the team title in the latest U.P. meet with a 590 total.

If Mead wins its Class A softball tournament opener at Crystal Falls Friday night the Paper Makers will return to action Saturday afternoon at 4:30. If they lose the 9 p.m. opener against Copper Country Dairy, they will play their second game at noon Saturday. Mead is in the opposite bracket from Canadian Soo Doran's who have the spectacular Reno Pettenuzzo on the mound.

Brown's Air-Minded In Football Shift

DETROIT (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, once known for their blistering panzer attack spearheaded by fullback Jimmy Brown, have gone airborne. The Detroit Lions will get a look at the Cleveland air show Friday night in a National Football League exhibition at Tiger Stadium. Kickoff is 8 p.m. In their last two outings, the Browns have connected for 12 touchdown passes in walloping the Los Angeles Rams 56-31, and the Pittsburgh Steelers 42-7. Brown, meanwhile, has been spending his spare time blocking for quarterbacks Frank Ryan and Jim Niewski. Ryan, who sat out the Steelers game with a minor injury, threw four touchdown passes against the Rams. Niewski, the former Michigan State ace whom the Lions traded to Cleveland for Milt Plum, had two TD aerials against Los Angeles and five more against Pittsburgh. Even reserve sign-caller Jon Anabo got into the act with a scoring pass against the Rams. The change to aerial warfare came about after the Browns dropped their exhibition opener to the San Francisco 49ers 26-7.

Cleveland Has Indian Sign On Baltimore Team

By The Associated Press
The Baltimore Orioles will be lucky if they can get out of the Cleveland Indians' eighth inning with the American League pennant. The Indians edged the first-place Orioles 3-2 Wednesday night, scoring two runs in the eighth inning for the victory. The loss, coupled with Chicago's 2-1, 12-inning triumph over Minnesota, sliced Baltimore's lead to one percentage point over the second-place White Sox. The victory, the Indians' sixth straight, increased their season edge over Baltimore to 10-5, making them the only team to hold an edge over the league leaders. More specifically, though, the Indians have won five of the last six games with Baltimore in the eighth inning. A five-run outburst in the eighth Tuesday night brought Cleveland a 5-3 decision. Wednesday night's game was tied 1-1 going into the eighth. Slow-footed John Romano sent the tie-breaking run across with a two-out, two-strike bunt single, a surprise move he pulled on his own. Vic Davalillo followed with a run-scoring double. Explaining the rare squeeze bunt, Romano said: "I can't hit (relief pitcher Stu) Miller anyway, so I had to do something." Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer, however, didn't have any explanation for the Indians' eighth-inning tactics. Elsewhere in the AL, Washington blanked New York 2-0, Detroit defeated Boston 4-1 and Los Angeles knocked off Kansas City 5-2. Norm Siebern slammed a homer for the Orioles in the eighth, but they couldn't do any more scoring. A walk and singles by Earl Robinson and Russ Snyder had given Baltimore a 1-1 tie in the sixth and set the stage for the eighth-inning rally. Don Buford singled home Gerry McNertney with Chicago's winning run in the 12th. McNertney led off the inning by reaching second base on a wild throw to first by the Twis-

ing for quarterbacks Frank Ryan and Jim Niewski. Ryan, who sat out the Steelers game with a minor injury, threw four touchdown passes against the Rams. Niewski, the former Michigan State ace whom the Lions traded to Cleveland for Milt Plum, had two TD aerials against Los Angeles and five more against Pittsburgh. Even reserve sign-caller Jon Anabo got into the act with a scoring pass against the Rams. The change to aerial warfare came about after the Browns dropped their exhibition opener to the San Francisco 49ers 26-7.

Dark Juggles Lineup But Giants Bow 2-1

By The Associated Press

The San Francisco Giants have to be in trouble when Juan Marichal threatens to strike and Willie Mays starts moonlighting. Mays tried to hold down two jobs for the Giants Wednesday night, shuttling between center field and third base in a 2-1 loss to the Los Angeles Dodgers that dropped San Francisco 7½ games behind National League-leading Philadelphia.

But the big labor dispute revolved around Marichal, the ace right-hander of the Giants' staff who hoisted his placard and said he won't pitch before he feels he's ready. "I don't want to take any chances any more," said Marichal, who has been bothered by a bad back, but made his first start since July 29 against the Dodgers Tuesday night. Marichal, who pitched five innings, said he didn't think he was ready to go, then added: "They wanted me to pitch. I'll tell you this: If it's still the same the next time, I won't pitch."

Manager Al Dark's comment was concise: "He'll pitch Sunday." Where Mays will play is another question. He started in center field against the Dodgers, but had to take over at third base in the second inning after Jim Ray Hart was struck in the head by a thrown ball while running from first base to second and was forced to leave the game. Mays, who also has played first for the Giants this season, moved back to center field in the seventh inning, then returned to the infield again in the ninth as Dark constantly juggled his lineup in an effort to get the Giants moving against Don Drysdale. Drysdale, however, checked San Francisco on seven hits and came up the winner on Doug Camilli's run-producing single in the ninth. The Phillies, meanwhile, rode Chris Short's six-hit pitching to a 6-1 victory over Milwaukee and built their bulge over second-place Cincinnati to seven games. The Reds were beaten by the New York Mets and Tracy Stallard's five-hit pitching, 3-1. Elsewhere, Larry Jackson posted his 16th victory for Chicago with a six-hit, 3-1 triumph over Houston and rookie Mike Cuellar posted the first complete game of his major league career in St. Louis' 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh. The Dodgers won it in the ninth for Drysdale on a single by Frank Howard, a ground out and an intentional walk to Nate Oliver that brought up Camilli. Camilli blooped a single to center giving Drysdale a 14-13 record while tagging Bob Hendley with the loss. Short, bringing his record to 14-6 while lowering his earned run average to 1.70, snapped the Phillies out of their first two-game losing streak since July 26 with the support of four homers — two by Gus Triandos and one each by Ruben Amaro and Tony Gonzalez. Short was touched for a run in the ninth on a double by Joe Torre and Denny Menke's single. Stallard, now 8-16, checked the Reds on four singles until Don Pavletich ruined his shutout bid with a seventh inning homer. Ed Kranepool drove in two of the Mets runs off Joey Jay, 9-9, with a fourth inning single and a sixth inning sacrifice fly. Ron Hunt drove in the final run with a seventh inning single. Jackson, 16-10, kept the Colts from becoming the first NL team this season to win seven straight, losing his shutout on Nellie Fox' run-producing single in the sixth. Jackson received home run support from Ernie Banks, who hit his 16th, and Ron Santo, who connected for No. 25. Cuellar, 5-3, was tagged for homers by Donn Clendenon and Gene Alley in the fifth, but the Cardinals pulled ahead 3-2 in their half on Lou Brock homer, a triple by Dick Groat and Ken Boyer's single.

Pistons Get Bigger Terry

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Detroit Pistons may have made a bigger trade than they realized when they obtained Terry Dischinger from the Baltimore Bullets. At least, Dischinger himself will be bigger when he reports to the Pistons for the National Basketball Association season. Terry was pounded regularly last season while rebounding, and he decided to do something about it before another campaign rolled around. As a result, he has gained 25 pounds and now weighs 215. "All summer I've been doing isometric exercises," he said, "and I'm really pleased with the results. I'm better prepared for the start of the season than I was for either of the other two years I played pro ball."

Terry played his first game as a 215 pounder last week in the Maurice Stokes benefit game in New York, and he was satisfied with his first test. "I played a little more than a quarter and got five baskets," he said. "I felt comfortable with the added weight. I noticed more people bouncing off of me, rather than bumping me away."

Tigers Claim Playoff Title

POWERS — The Tigers captured the junior baseball tournament championship with a 7-2 victory over the Yankees as Lee Vincent fired a five hitter while fanning 12 and walking two. Dick Smith and Jim Gaber worked the mound for the Yankees and allowed six hits. Dan Fleetwood and Mark Veeder tripled for the winners and Smith stroked a double for the losers.

Piersall Joins Beatle Maniacs

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jimmy Piersall of the Los Angeles Angels gave Kansas City a preview of the Beatles Wednesday night. Charles Finley, the owner of the Athletics, has hired the Beatles for a performance next month, and Piersall took the opportunity in the seventh inning to go into one of his routines. As he strolled to the plate to bat, Piersall was wearing a Beatle wig. Plate Umpire Frank Umont then held a small conference with the Los Angeles outfielder, and Piersall batted without the hairpiece.

Palmer's Ace Almost Costly

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — Arnold Palmer shot a hole in one in two Wednesdays and barely escaped a $25 fine. Practicing for the Carling World Tournament opening today, the Latrobe, Pa., pro hit a drive on the 194-yard 17th which missed the green. Unhappy with it, he teed up another ball and knocked it into the hole with a four iron—a sort of mulligan. Under PGA rules a $25 fine is assessed for players who hit a second shot on par-three holes in practice. Palmer, long a member of the PGA players' committee, said the rule didn't apply when the green was missed on the first shot.

Tigers Tighten Grip On Fourth

BOSTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, poised for one of their traditional late-season surges, were a game closer to a fourth place finish in the American League today. The Tigers whipped Boston 4-1 Wednesday night, moving 2½ games in front of the Minnesota Twins and Los Angeles Angels, both tied for fifth. The Twins lost a 12-inning 2-1 decision at Chicago.

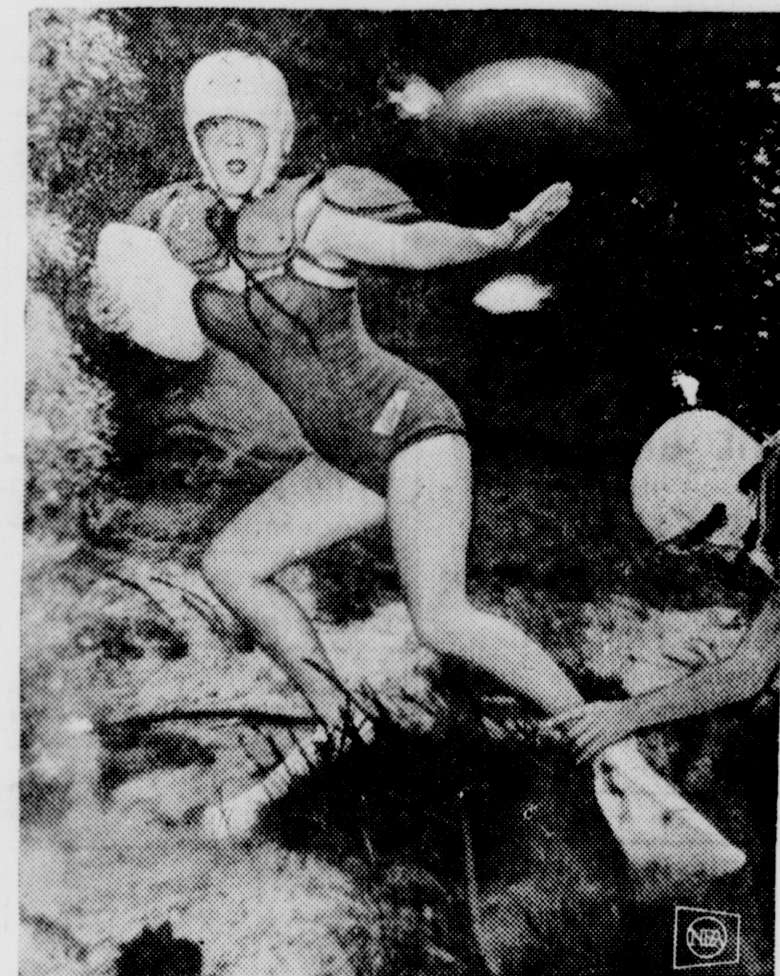

Detroit could sweep the three-game against the Red Sox with a victory today. Joe Sparna (4-5) was slated to pitch for Detroit. Boston was expected to start Jack Lamabe (8-10). The Tigers play 14 of their remaining 32 games against pennant-battling Baltimore, Chicago and New York, giving the Detroit club a lot to say about who wins the AL flag. The Yankees have six meetings left with Detroit, and Baltimore and Chicago have four each.

Dave Wickersham posted his 16th victory at the expense of the Red Sox. He hurled a five-hitter and didn't give up a run until the eighth inning. Bob Tillman spoiled the shutout with a single off the left-field wall, scoring Eddie Bressoud who had doubled. The Tigers scored two runs in the sixth on Don Demeter's 19th homer, a double by Bill Freehan and an infield out. The final two runs came in the next frame on Jerry Lumpe's fifth home run of the season, Al Kaline's double and a single by Gates Brown. Kaline left the game after clubbing his double. He was replaced by George Thomas. The Tigers cracked 11 hits off the three Boston pitchers with Al Kaline, Freehan, Norm Cash and Don Wert getting two apiece.

Detroit moves into Los Angeles Friday for an important four-game series.

Boxing's Future Not Too Bright

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Boxing is close to elimination as a major sports activity, Commissioner Abe J. Greene told the World Boxing Association convention today and urged that "we put it back on the sports page in decency and take it out of the front page headlines of despair." Greene said boxing had been a major factor in the development of television but now the last nationally shown boxing series is about to suspend while television time for other sports is on the increase. He pointed out that the other sports controlled television but that "boxing gives itself away, a pure unadulterated patsy."

Rams Count On Gabriel, Rugged Defensive Unit

Fourteenth of series on pro football team prospects.

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — Fullback is the big problem with the Los Angeles Rams who are rebuilding around a solid defensive line and a fast-improving quarterback, Roman Gabriel. "We expect to improve on last year, largely because our quarterback, Gabriel, will have more experience," said Svara at the Rams' camp. The Rams lost their first five games last fall. Then they turned around and won five of their next seven beating San Francisco twice and Detroit, Baltimore and Minnesota once each. The word around the National Football League was that the Rams were to be feared in 1964. Ben Wilson's decision to pass up pro football for dentistry after a fine rookie year left a gaping hole at the fullback position.

Svara has been switching his backs around, trying to come up with a replacement for Wilson. It might turn out to be Dick Bass, the halfback who shared the heavy duty ground work with Wilson last year. This is the third year for Gabriel, the former North Carolina State quarterback. Progress has been slow but steady. After winning the job late in 1962, he gave way to rookie Terry Baker for last year's opener but soon reclaimed the job. Carroll Dale and Jim Phillips are the top receivers. Svara beefed up his offensive line considerably when he traded Jon Arnett, who has been hobbled by leg injuries for a couple of seasons, to the Chicago Bears. The Rams got Roger Davis, a Bear starter at guard for four seasons, to go with Charlie Cowan, Joe Seibelli and Don Chuy at that position. They also gained a third offensive center, Joe Wendryhoski, and Frank Budka, a rookie defensive back from Notre Dame. The other centers are Ken Kirk and Art Hunter. Joe Carroll and Frank Varrichione are set at offensive tackle. Many pro football experts think the Rams' defensive line of Dave Jones and Lamar Lund at the ends, and Rosey Grier and Merlin Olsen at the tackles are the best in the league. Stan Fanning and rookie Gary Larsen back them up. Jack Pardee, Mike Henry and the veteran Cliff Livingston are the starting linebackers with relief from Marv Harris, a good looking rookie from Stanford. Rookie Jerry Richardson of West Texas State, No. 3 draftee, and Bobby Smith will be the corner backs on defense with Lindon Crow and Ed Meador at safety. Scotti may reclaim a corner job when he is healthy.

Ballot Petitions Filed In Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Democrats filed a miniature mountain of petitions Wednesday that seemed certain to put the Massachusetts Ballot question to Michigan's voters on Nov. 3.

Party state counsel Tom Downs led a Democratic team that submitted an estimated 330,000-plus signatures to Secretary of State James Hare, a supporter of the drive.

The petitions, from all 83 counties, filled 22 large cartons. The State Board of Canvassers will have 10 days to certify them.

If 139,000 of the signatures are valid, the question of whether or not to adopt the Massachusetts, or office block, ballot will be placed before the electorate.

Campaign Issue

The 1964 legislature passed the Massachusetts ballot law, but validation of 139,000 signatures on petitions will rule out use of this ballot form in this year's general election. Instead, voters will be asked whether the ballot should be adopted for future elections.

Confusion Predicted

On a Massachusetts ballot, the individual must cast a separate vote for each office contest. On the party ticket ballot used in Michigan in recent years, the individual may cast votes for all members of one political party by pulling a single lever or marking a single "X".

The party ticket ballot will be used Nov. 3.

Democrats have said they will make the ballot campaign a major issue in this year's election.

But Republican Gov. George W. Romney, who signed the Massachusetts ballot bill, said Tuesday he does not consider it a major campaign issue.

Political observers generally agree the Democrats would do better in elections with the party ticket ballot than with the Massachusetts ballot.

Hare, the state's chief elections official, said past studies show that about 75 per cent of voters cast a straight party ballot when the ballot form permits. The other 25 per cent split their ticket, in essence voting as they would on a Massachusetts ballot.

Hare opposes the Massachusetts ballot because, he says, it would create delay and confusion at the polls.

The pile of petitions resulted from a last-ditch campaign by the Democrats and labor leaders who feared less than a month ago their signature campaign might fail. The petitions were filed two days ahead of the legal deadline.

Romney has pointed out that all primary election ballots are essentially a Massachusetts ballot since there is no party ticket in a primary.

Perch Fishing Good In Bay

Perch fishing has been good at the municipal dock and yacht harbor in Escanaba, the Conservation Department reports. A few walleye are being taken early in the morning upstream from the mouth of the Escanaba River.

In the Ensign area there has been very little fishing activity in the area due to rain and wind. Bass fishing, however, should continue good to Ogontz Bay and around St. Vital's Island.

In the Nahma area inland lake fishing has remained fair. Some good bluegill fishing has been reported on Chicago Lake and a few are being taken on Lyman Lake. Trout fishing has been poor due to weather conditions. Fall brook trout fishing should pick up now until the close of the season on the feeder streams.

In the Trenary area trout fishing pressure on local streams is practically non-existent. The south end of the AuTrain Basin is producing some rainbow trout in the spring holes by fishing deep with worms. Some panfish and a few bass are also being taken there.

In the Chatham area light catches of brook trout were made in the Slapneck Creek, Johnson Creek, and the Rock River. Spring holes and off mouths of the Johnson and Slapneck creeks were giving up a few rainbows on night crawlers fished on the bottom.

In the Rock area normally low water in the Escanaba River and the Sawmill Creek west of Rock contributed to increasing takes in brook and rainbow trout during the week. Rainbows were biting exceptionally well in the vicinity of the mouth of the Big West on the Escanaba, running from 10 to 14 inches. Larger brooks were making their way up the Sawmill preliminary to the spawning and fishing should be good in the coming week.

State Police said she told them she was trying to swat a fly in the car. Her car crossed over the centerline and hit another driven by Karen Fawcett, 20, of Rochester. No one was injured.

The Manistique library will be closed Aug. 31 for summer cleanup.

Road Project Planning Begins

Meeting with a delegation of 25 from Thunder Lake and Manistique areas, the Schoolcraft Road Commission Tuesday night indicated it had no funds to improve the 21 mile section of County Road 437, the Thunder Lake Road, in the foreseeable future, unless federal aid is obtained. Having the road formally added to the U.S. Forest Service road system and then programmed for improvement is the goal following the meeting Tuesday.

Mrs. H. H. Mintonye presented a petition of more than 500 signatures asking improvement of the road. Joel Carley, supervisor of Inwood Township reported on contracts he has made to seek the improvement and Carl Graves, secretary of the Top 'O Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce described the need of the area for the road improvement.

Last year maintenance on the road, which has 10 per cent of the primary road mileage, cost $25,670 or nearly a fourth of that spent by the Commission for maintenance, indicating the economic failure of the road.

"This is vast resort country, and it's important to the area because it feeds business districts through the many vacationers who come. We will work with the group in helping them obtain the improvement."

Justification

The possibility of getting accelerated public works funds for the project next winter, when the employment is down drastically can be explored," Graves said.

He urged the greatest possible cooperation by all concerned.

A future meeting, with possibly a committee to represent the interested group is planned, with Forest Service and other officials participating. Copies of the petitions will be forwarded to senators and representatives to seek their aid.

In a report by Matthew Weber, superintendent of the Road Commission, a letter was read in which the Road Commission urged the improvement of the road, citing that in 1963, 74,395 persons had visited the area. These included logging, recreation, residential and resort use.

Forest Products Artery

The justification by the Road Commission, filed in a letter to E. A. Bellenbaum, chief planning engineer for the Michigan Highway Department, cited that last year, 4,250 cords of pulp and 480 MBM of sawlogs were hauled over it, with the 1970 estimates set at 6300 cords of pulp and 900 MBM of sawlogs. The road is a main transportation line for forest service products. Improvement of the road would increase stumpage values in proportion to the type of road surface provided, it was noted.

Recreation use of the road is also heavy, with access points for the Indian River canoe trails along it, as well as Camp 7 Lake, with its 47 camp units and picnic grounds for 20, two boat landings, a bathing beach, change house and hiking and scenic trails.

Little Bass Lake campground, which has five family units with plans for 1965 expansion to 15, and 32 undeveloped campgrounds on lakes and streams in the Thunder Lake area also are included in the area which the road serves.

Users of Thunder Bowl ski hill, a planned 3-mile snow trail, a Boy Scout camp ground and eight private resorts, with others under construction also are served by the road.

Other uses include swimming, 1700 persons, hiking, 925, organization camping, private summer home and recreational summer residences brought in an additional 1500 visitors, and berrypicking, an estimated 2800.

Wind Batters Sail Boat; Takes Refuge Here

Clothing was hanging to dry from rigging of the "Lori," 26-foot auxiliary sloop from Milwaukee, which took refuge at the Yacht Harbor here Tuesday, and a new metal tiller had been installed following the Monday night storm on Lake Michigan.

Aboard were three college students, Jack and Alan Huse, who attend the University of Wisconsin at Madison and Jim Baukus, who attends Marquette University in Milwaukee.

The three set sail Aug. 17 and laid over two days due to poor weather. They planned to run to Mackinac but changed plans due to the storm delay.

The three said they thought they were going to overturn on the lake, so violent did the storm become as they headed for Manistique at 9 p.m., Monday. They had dropped sail in the heavy winds, were using motor power, and were having difficulty steering due to the disabled tiller.

Delta Area's Tourist Trade Continues High

The Delta County area's tourist business continues high, its hotels and motels report today.

The season closing on Labor Day will go down as the best ever for some establishments and all report good to excellent business in August and prospects for fine fall trade.

Some said that they had a very slow June. The weather was cool and the tourist traffic was slow in starting for them. July was normal to very good, the operators reported and there was an almost unanimous report of "very good" for August and some reported heavy turn-away business.

Some don't expect the tourist flow to slacken seriously until Sept. 4 in anticipation of Labor Day, but others believe that the back-to-school influence on family touring will be felt from this weekend.

Typical reactions:

"About the same as last year; a real good summer."

"We're just crazy with business."

"Average; very good after a slow start."

"Ahead of last year."

One of the operators said "We expected September to be a fine month for couples. It is getting better every year and we're also doing increasing business with touring couples in October for the color show."

There was general agreement on the increase in fall business, as couples take over where families leave off after the back-to-school march.

The pattern of traffic origin was reported by most hotels and motels to show no discernable change, but some said that they are getting more Chicago visitors and that Illinois tourists now compose the largest single group from any state outside Michigan. Ohio is also sending many tourists to the Upper Peninsula. Their heavier influx was noticeable as soon as I-75 was completed from Mackinac to Detroit and Toledo a year ago.

Some of the motels said that they get more tourists from Minnesota than from any other state. One said it had four from Minnesota on one side and four from Ohio on the other one night recently.

Hotel reaction credited business other than tourism for a sub-part of a better-than-usual summer.

A motel with heavy commercial booking said its summer business was ahead of any in the last four years.

President Flies To Byrd Funeral

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP) — President Johnson landed at the Winchester Airport at 10:40 a. m. (EDT) today to attend funeral services for Mrs. Anne Douglas Beverley Byrd, wife of Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va.

The President's helicopter set down on a ramp near a crowd of 50 to 60 persons. Johnson shook hands briefly with the crowd before stepping into a waiting limousine that took him to Christ Episcopal Church for the services.

Johnson was accompanied on the flight from Washington by Price Daniel, a former governor of Texas.

ize Young Citizens for LBJ, how to provide publicity, how to pep up women's activities, how to encourage citizen groups and how to turn out zippy campaign material.

Carter also has the responsibility of making sure everything runs smoothly in Convention Hall. An elaborate phone system keeps him within instant touch of each delegation.

He was explaining this as he was returning from lunch. Suddenly his coat pocket started to buzz. Carter took out a small radio receiver and switched it off.

"This means I have a call," he said. "I've got to get to a phone."

As you can see, not many bets were overlooked in Atlantic City.

Vanlerberghe All In Campaign

City Council Harold Vanlerberghe, a former Escanaba mayor, is in the full throes of his campaign for nomination as 37th district state senator in the Sept. 1 primary.

Vanlerberghe is much better equipped than most candidates with family help because he has a sizeable family and he also comes from one. And while the Vanlerberghe may exercise individuality in choice of political faiths, when one of them is running for office they rally like the Greeks at Thermopylae — or maybe we should say the Dutch at the Zuider Zee.

All the Vanlerberghe, from the candidate's father, Elair Vanlerberghe, on down to his niece, Debbie, are busy these days in the preparation of campaign materials for mailing and there are so many of them that it's possible for the family to staff two shifts for the work at the Vanlerberghe home, 504 S. 11th St.

Friends of the candidate are also helping him with his campaign. He is running in a huge senatorial district that embraces all or parts of 6 Upper Peninsula counties and 8 Lower Peninsula counties. And his problems are increased by the "head start" of some of his fellow contestants for the Republican nomination. Two are incumbent senators whose districts are being merged into the new 37th District in the reapportionment process and there's a fourth candidate for Alpena, former mayor Fred K. Taber.

Chrysler Picked As First UAW Strike Target

LONGEST IN 1945-46

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp., selected as the United Auto Workers strike target for 1963, experienced in 1951 the auto industry's second longest strike. It lasted 104 days.

The walkout was called by the UAW to enforce its demands on pensions. The company offered to guarantee pensions. The union demanded establishment of an independent fund, so funded as to guarantee pensions regardless of what happened to Chrysler.

The union finally won its point at Chrysler and at General Motors and Ford.

Now the issues at Chrysler, as well as at GM and Ford, include demands for earlier and higher pensions and increased pensions for those already retired.

The industry's longest strike was against General Motors. It was in support of new contract demands and lasted 113 days, stretching from late 1945 into 1946.

Bus No. T-2 driven by Byron Ford will service the Bay View, Chemical and below the hill area in Wells (Electric Avenue and area to the east), on his first trip taking students to Junior, Senior and Holy Name High Schools. Approximate time in the Chemical Area 7 a. m.

All non-public grade school children in the Wells area are to meet at the school house for transportation to city. Night routes will be in the same order reversed. Fifth and sixth graders who attended the Senior High School last year will be housed at Wells this year.

Rabid Skunk Captured In Spalding Area

The State Health Laboratory in Lansing has confirmed that a skunk's head, sent in one week ago by Dr. Roger Seidl, Menominee veterinarian, was a positive carrier of rabies.

Dr. Seidl said the skunk had bitten a dog at the dumping grounds in Spalding last week. The dog was treated for bite wounds and will be under close watch for six months.

"There is no cause for panic," Dr. Seidl said, "no human beings were bitten by the animal."

Marble Plants Are Both Busy

GLADSTONE—While efforts of ITT-Bell & Gossett Corp. to sell its Marble Divisions plants in here progress, both plants continue in operation.

B&G, after its acquisition by International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., announced the Marble Arms plant surplus and said it would sell it intact to promote its continuance in Gladstone as a bolster for the community's economy.

Negotiations have been underway since for purchase and it has been inspected by several groups, and the newly formed Gladstone Industrial Development Corp. is offering its assistance in arranging a purchase.

The Marble Electric plant was later declared surplus by ITT and it, too, is being offered for sale.

B&G kept the arms plant operating with a reduced staff to enhance sale negotiations so that a going enterprise might be conveyed to a buyer, and the plant has done so well in this interim period that it is now at peak production and operating two shifts.

The Marble Electric plant, which was to have closed, according to indication to the United Auto Workers Local which represents its workers, has been continued with a dozen workers employed in the production of motors.
